*"I was born in Copenhagen on 16 October 1943.
A few days after my birth my father came
to take my mother
and me home.*

*He had arranged
lunch and decorated
the apartment with flowers. I was laid in a pale blue cot
from where I watched
my father open a bottle
of champagne and
together with my mother
toast my arrival".*

A black and white photograph featuring a woman and a man. The woman, with long blonde hair, is perched on a metal frame, wearing a light-colored long-sleeved shirt and shorts. She has her right arm extended, resting on the top bar of the frame. The man is sitting on the floor in the foreground, leaning against the same metal frame. He is wearing a short-sleeved polo shirt and trousers, and is looking upwards and to the right. The background is a plain, dark grey wall.

“When you serve me drinks from now on, can you please do it with crushed ice?” she asked, after which the waiter served drinks for the rest of our holiday not with “crushed ice”, but with “crossed eyes”.

Ever since the 1960's, Margit Brandt has been loved for her designs.

She was an icon in both Denmark and abroad. Her timeless and beautiful designs are still recognized and loved worldwide.

Margit Brandt once said in an interview, "I love that also everyday products are designed in a way that is different from the grey everyday life".

This sentence characterizes the general thread in her design – that the individual thing besides being functional must also be chic, beautifying, and special.
