BLOWN GLASS //

The Glassblowing is a glassforming technique that involves inflating molten glass into a bubble with the aid of a blow-pipe. Requires various ingredients: pieces of recycle glass, silica sand, stabilizers, flux and metallic oxide colours. The mixture is melted at a temperature of between 1400°C and 1500°C (2550°F - 2730°F). After cooling to a temperature of 1200°C (2190°F), a piece is soft enough to be worked.
